

TIARA BOSTOCK

LSW Adjunct Staff

I am passionate about reframing and healing past traumas and experiences in order to develop and grow into the healthiest version of yourself. I aim to help you create a healthy relationship with yourself first and foremost so that you can have healthier personal, social and professional relationships in your life. I take a strengths based approach that views you and your family holistically in order to produce personalized results. I specialize in trauma, abuse, and relationship issues. I am a Licensed Social Worker with a Master's Degree from The Ohio State University. I have worked in the nonprofit sector for homelessness prevention, domestic violence, and community mental health. I work with adults and couples.
